Annual Report 2014 – 2015

Date :

My Dear Friends and Well-Wishers,

The Year 2014-2015 had been a water-shed in the history of the Development Society for Poor. Notwithstanding the dwindling resources and in the face of severe financial crunch we were able to perform path-breaking projects that gave us a true sense of pride and fulfillment in our work among the poor and the marginalized.

To be more relevant we worked towards the characteristic nature of addressing the concerns of the poor. They are programmes are as follows:

1. Elderly Care – Home for the Aged:

Under the aegis of Development Society for Poor we started a Home for the Aged at Rentachintala village of Guntur district for those who are badly neglected by their children. This home provides the senior citizens with food, clothing and health care. Above all this the inmates are treated with love and care which is a most important component of their lives. A total number of 25 senior citizens are sheltered in the Home.

2. Educational Help to the Children:

Education is an important tool that develops the physical, emotional, educational and other needs of the children that paves the way for their holistic growth. Education enhances confidence and makes the children heard. It opens up world of opportunities. Education is one of the basic needs along with food, clothing and shelter. The children are provided with note books. These children hail from socially marginalised communities and the poorest of the poor. Their parents are farm labourers with a minimum daily wage unable to educate their children. This assistance helped the children to continue their education and fine tune their skills of learning, reading, writing and arithmetic.
